

THE SECRET AND FRATERNAL SOCIETIES

WEEKLY MASONIC CALENDAR.

"VEILED PROPHETS" AT COLUMBUS, OHIO.

ODD FELLOWS CALENDAR.

Standing out prominently in all the official stunts and ceremonies at the Supreme Council session of the Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted Realm, held recently at Columbus, Ohio, were the "prophets" of Kallipolis Grotto, No. 15, of this city, and of Samis Grotto, No. 36, of Richmond, Va., shown in the accompanying cut.

These functionaries will be in their glory at the third grand annual excursion of Kallipolis Grotto, to be given for the families and friends of the members at Chesapeake Beach, Wednesday, July 24. The Washington Florists' Club will join the "prophets" on this excursion, and the committee in charge are now working to make it the gala event in fraternal circles this season.

The general committee of the grotto held an important meeting last Friday night at the home of the master Mason, and made arrangements to put on a big program of athletic events, a ball game between teams representing the grotto and the Florists' Club, events for the ladies and children, and prizes for the winners. Announcements of the chairman and vice chairman of the various committees were announced last Friday night as follows: General committee—J. R. Pullman, chairman, and George E. Emmerson, Jr., vice chairman. Entertainment committee—J. F. Grant, chairman; E. W. Hawkins, vice chairman; and games and stunts—Samuel P. Shreve, chairman; Fred A. Hermann, vice chairman; Tickets—Charles E. Coker, chairman; A. B. Williams, vice chairman; Publicity—W. H. Lanvick, chairman; C. Wilkins, vice chairman; B. W. Pullman, and R. L. Joyce, judges—H. E. Sands, chairman; Frank K. Raymond, vice chairman; Stages—Pete Lettner, chairman; Pete Lettner, vice chairman; Clerk of course—Charles F. Burlingame.

W. W. Kimmell is chairman of the Florists' Club committee. It is announced that the chairman and vice chairman of all the committees and a large delegation of "live prophets" together with a delegation from the Florists' Club will meet at Chesapeake Junction this morning in time for the 11 o'clock train to the beach, where they will go over the grounds and make special plans to handle the large crowd on the occasion of the outing.

It was stated at the committee meeting last Friday night that enough tickets have already been disposed of to warrant the committee in preparing for more than 5,000 excursionists. No pains will be spared to give every accommodation and to make the outing one to be long remembered for its real pleasure and enjoyment.

Hundreds of prizes will be given in the various events at the beach on the day of the outing, but the opportunity to win the most handsome prize is now open to all who care to try for it. A solid gold diamond and pearl set "Prophets" button will be given to the person selling the largest number of tickets to the beach for July 24.

The committee will hold another meeting next Friday night when the full membership of the various subcommittees will be announced.

The New Jerusalem Lodge, No. 8, F. & A. M., conferred the fellow craft degree at its stated communication last Thursday night. The new officers were: Charles G. Dougherty, senior deacon, who was assisted by William Claiborne, junior deacon.

St. John's Lodge, No. 11, F. & A. M., conferred the fellow craft degree at a stated communication last Friday night, with a large number of visitors present.

Items, General and Personal, Of Interest to G. P. O. Workers

G. P. O. EMPLOYEE DEAD.

Don Murray, Eddie Nevada, and a number of expert linotypers from the Record were given a detour to the proof room during the week, the recess of Congress causing a slight slump in the machine work.

Freeman Howard Taylor had the misfortune recently to get his right hand caught in one of the web presses, no bones being broken, but the flesh of all four fingers being badly lacerated.

James A. Galleher, of the proofroom, is exceedingly proud of the success of his son, Parke Ashby Galleher, who has been elected to the position of president of the Washington University with the degree of LL. B.

John T. Roberts gave up the job of corrector in the press room at night several weeks ago and was given a place as copy holder in the proofroom because he was troubled, as he thought, with rheumatism of the shoulder. It was said that he went to Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, for treatment, and it was found he was suffering from an old injury caused by a fall some years ago. It was thought for a time that the arm would have to be amputated. Conditions have somewhat improved, however, and while he may not lose the arm, the doctors say there is still hope of its ever being of much practical use to him.

San Antonio, Tex., is first in the field for the honor of entertaining the convention of the International Typographical Union in 1913.

Luke F. Ludlow is a busy man these days preparing for the outing to be given by Central Labor Union at Benning, July 4. Luke is always a prominent figure at all functions of the C. L. U., and this one will be no exception.

Charles Spencer, who was killed by being struck by an automobile near the Congressional Library on Tuesday evening, had been an employee of the G. P. O. for thirty years or more, and was a case holder on the National Republican when Bill Hickman was foreman, and the force was composed of "Pard" Bloomer, Bill Dunn, Billy Knute, "Joel" Allison, Ham Platt, Tom Johns, Billy Hinton, and other well-known printers. Mr. Spencer was an excellent workman, and learned the business in Pottsville, Pa., which city he always considered his home, and where a brother and sister still reside, and where he was taken for burial beside his wife, who died three or four years ago. His service in the G. P. O. was in all capacities from the case to the proof desk. For many years he was a make-up at the navy branch, from where he was transferred to the proofroom and filled the position of reader most capably until about two years ago, when, owing to failing eyesight, he was made a copyholder. Singularly, there was nothing on his person to identify him at the time of the accident, he being a member of the Odd Fellows and the Typographical Union, and his body lay at the morgue for two days until identified by a fellow-printer. Mr. Spencer was seventy-four years of age.

Fred E. Weber, secretary treasurer of the Union Mutual Relief Association, in his semi-annual report for the year, shows the affairs of that organization to be in a flourishing condition.

Robert Glocking and James W. Daugherty, president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, were re-elected without opposition at the recent convention of the International Brotherhood of Bookbinders at Detroit, Mich. J. D. Belair was unanimously chosen third vice president.

Charles Young, superintendent of the night force, wound up the fiscal year with fifteen nights of vacation. Johnny Green performing the duties of "super" in the interim.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

The executive committee, acting for the local council in making arrangements for the Columbus Memorial Banquet, held on June 8, held a meeting Monday, the State deputy, E. P. Harrington, presiding. Practically all the details connected with the celebration have been taken up, and the plan for the banquet, which has been held at the Washington University with the degree of LL. B.

K. O. T. M. CALENDAR.

June 1—National Tent, No. 1, Old Masonic Temple, Ninth and F Streets, regular meeting, with the degree team. June 2—Brightwood Tent, No. 8, regular meeting, with the degree team.

June 3—District Tent, No. 8, special review, Marston's Temple, for the purpose of installing the officers, at which special attractions are to be held. June 4—District Tent, No. 8, regular meeting, at Ball, at Wisconsin Avenue and M Street Northwest.

State Deputy Grand Commander D. W. Gall returned last night from an extended trip through Virginia, and reports the assumption of the State in a flourishing condition.

Monday night the Uniform Rank, Washington Division, No. 1, held a meeting at Old Masonic Temple, presided over by Capt. F. R. Conner, at which advanced steps were taken to make this division one of the best in the supreme tent jurisdiction.

National Tent, No. 1, held its regular review and made preparations for the initiation Monday night which will take place to-morrow night. The degree team will have the initiation in charge. Refreshments will be served.

Mount Vernon Tent, No. 4, held its usual weekly meeting at Northeast Temple with a goodly number of the members present. Anacostia Tent, No. 7, had a largely attended meeting last Monday night.

Tuesday night Brightwood Tent, No. 8, which is the leading tent in the city in point of real practical Maccabeanism, had its usual large attendance, and its degree team maintained its good name by initiating two candidates. This tent each night has initiatory work and refreshments, and its members enjoy the meetings. Next Tuesday night they are preparing for initiation and degree work.

District Tent, No. 8, held a well attended meeting last Thursday night and made arrangements to hold a special meeting next Wednesday night to install their officers. Thursday being the Fourth of July, and in order to have the State Commander at the installation, they have called this special meeting.

Spaulding Council, K. of C., next meeting, falling on July 4, it has been voted to hold the regular meeting on Friday evening, July 5.

Potomac Council was organized on June 20, 1909. As the anniversary fell on Sunday it was unanimously voted to celebrate it on the preceding Saturday, June 29. Accordingly the thirteenth anniversary of this progressive council was celebrated by a grand all-day excursion to Marshall Hall. The excursion was enjoyed by a large number of the members of the council with their families and friends.

It is with regret that Grand Secretary W. E. Clapp, of the I. O. O. F., announced the death of a young member of the Washington delegation numbering about 150. The degrees were exceptionally well rendered, and much praise was given the degree teams by Grand Master F. A. Group, of Maryland, in his speech, thanking the two degree staffs for coming to Baltimore and conferring the work for the Maryland jurisdiction.

The evening's exercises closed with a banquet, and the Washington Odd Fellows reached home in the early morning hours well pleased with their trip.
